

Help Patients Heal from ACEs

Support for patients impacted by ACEs or toxic stress

Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) are stressful or potentially traumatic experiences that happen to us before we turn 18. Examples include having a caregiver who struggled with mental health or substance use, witnessing domestic violence, or experiencing abuse or neglect.

ACEs are common in California. When traumatic events happen over and over again, without enough buffering support, our natural stress response gets over-activated and we can experience something called toxic stress. Toxic stress can impact our mental and physical health well into adulthood.

3 out of 5 people in California have experienced at least 1 ACE.

The good news is that healing is possible. And as a health care provider, you can partner with your patients on their healing journeys. Please share these valuable resources from the Office of the California Surgeon General's Live Beyond campaign today to help them learn more about ACEs, toxic stress, and things we all can do to heal.
